What is KUKUI? (koo koo e)

From the state tree of Hawai'i, meaning "enlightenment" the kukui is used in various ways. It is harvested for the oil used in cooking, lighting tiki torches, and a moisturizer for many skin conditions. The shell is then hollowed and dried, polished, painted, and strung together by hand to produce the kukui nut lei. Once worn by reigning chiefs and royalty of Hawai'i, the kukui nut lei is now worn by all as a symbol of good luck.

Kukui nut lei's from GO NUTS are the perfect way to show School Spirit! Wear to rally's, school activities, and all sporting events! It also make great graduation gifts. It's the Spirit Wear that never gets old and can be used time and time again to show support for your school & team!
